But even the suggestion is injurious to the Executive, and we dismiss it from further consideration. There is therefore nothing to hinder this Court from an investigation of the merits of this controversy. The controlling question in the case is this: Upon the facts stated in Mulligan's petition and exhibits filed, had the Military Commission mentioned in the exhibits jurisdiction to sentence Mulligan, he not being a resideut of the rebellious States or a prisoner of war—a resident of Indiana for twenty market closed casier. LONDON, Friday.—Consols closed firm at 901 for London, Saturday, 29.—There is a brisk demand of the commander of the Military District of Indiana. Had this bribunal the legal power and authority to try and punish this man? No graver question was ever considered by this Court, nor one which more nearly concerns the rights of the whole people; for it is the birthright of every American citizen, when charged with crime, to be tried and punished according to law. The power of punishment is alone through the means which the laws have provided for that purpose, and if they are ineffectual, there is an immunity from punishment, no matter how grave an offender the individual may be, or how much his crimes may have shocked the sense of justice of the country or endangered its safety. London, Saturday, 29.—There is a brisk definant for money at the Banks and on the Stock Exchange to-day, but the rates for advances are without alteration. Consols have in consequence declined 4. closing at 90.

"In village, grange,
And borough town, the stemming diagon, borne
From house to house, clates the poor man's heart,
And makes him feel that life has still its joys.
The aged and the young, man, woman, child,
Unito in social glee; even stranger dogs,
Meeting with bristling back, soon lay aside
Their snarling aspect, and in sportive chase, Excursive scour, or wallow in the snow."

The old English poet here gives in a few lines a tionality of the trial of citizens by Military Courts the following paragraphs appear: It can never be in a country of written constitutions, with a judicial department to interpret them, that any Chief Magistrate would be so far forgetful of his duty as to order the execution of a man who had denied the jurisdiction that tried and convicted him. The case afterwards had been brought before Federal Judges, with power to decide it, who being meable to agree in the grave question it involved, had, according to known law, sent it to the Supreme Court of the Funited States for decident. very lively picture of the New Year's holiday, as observed in the olden time. There always has been more or less festivity connected with the celebration of the New Year, both with Jew and Christian, Pagan and Mahommedan. The transition from the old year to the new is naturally suggestive of feelings both of sorrow and of joy. All feel the solemnity of the occasion; sorrow and regret at the departing year, joy and welcome to the new, that carries in its bosom so much of hope and happiness. Of all periods this is the most usual, as it is the most fitting, for looking inward, for self-examination, for forming resolutions to do apropos remarks:

aginary milestone on the turnpike track of human life; at once a resting place for thought and medi-tation, and a starting point for fresh exertion in life; at once a resting place for thought and medi-tation, and a starting point for fresh exertion in the performance of our journey. The man who does not at least propose to himself to be better this year than he was last, must be either very g od or very bad indeed! And only to propose to be better, is something; if nothing else, it is an acknowledgment of our need to be so, which is the rist step toward amendment. But, in fact, to propose to oneself to do well, is in some sort to do well, positively; for there is no such thing as a stationary point in human endeavors; he who is not worse to-day than he was yesterday, is better:

and he who is not better, is worse.

GEO. W. WILLIAMS,
J. R. BOYLSTON,
WM. S. BASTIE,
JOHN S. RYAN,

Merry-makings on New Year's Eve and New Year's Day are of very ancient date in England. Their proximity to Christmas doubtless gives them somewhat of a Yule coloring. The head of the house assembled his family around a bowl of spiced ale, usually called "lamb's wool," from which he drank their healths, then passed it to the rest that they might drink too, saying Wass had! raraphino Manufactory of M. R. Which a Co., corner Richards and Delaware streets, South Brooklyn, and the adjoining Oil Refineries of Messrs, Hudson and James J. Houston, were burned last evening. Loss $300,000. Two men were burned—fatally it is feared.

M. de Montholon, late French Minister, and family, exiled in the St. Lawrence resterday. (to your health). Hence this came to be recognized as the Wassail bowl. The poorer class of people carried a bowl adorned with ribbons round the neighborhood, begging for something wherewith to obtain the means of filling it, that they might enjoy wassail as well as the rich. In their compotations they had songs suitable to the occasion; doggerel many of them, but brimful of rustic innocence and good fellowship.

M. de Montholon, late French Minister, and family, sailed in the St. Lawrence yesterday.

George Schleget, a lithographer, has been arrested on the charge of having engraved a counterfeit imitation of the label of the Longworth Wine Manufacturing Company, Cincinnati, to be used for furthering the sale of spurious American wines. He was held to answer the charge. Five or six civil suits are pending against alleged manufacturers of fictit.ous wines.

A German journeyman shoemaker was murdered in Thompson street last night by a negro. The affair is wrapped in mystery. No arrests have been made. In Scotland the wassail bowl was held in sacred reverence up to a very recent period. On the approach of twelve o'clock, a hot pint was proparedthat is a kettle or flagon of warm, spiced, and sweetened ale, with an infusion of spirits. was seized at Aspinwall by the United States Consul under suspicious circumstances. She left Singapore for Molbourne, with a cargo of specie consigned to Melbourne, Australia, for which voyage her papers were made out in regular order. The vessel was originally built in the United States, and was afterwards transferred to the British flag by the American Consul at Singapore. The Consul at Aspinwall reserved the vessel and placed a guard of marines from the U.S. ship Mackinaw on board. The Captain had previously disposed of his cargo, but the purchaser declined to fulfill his agreement on hearing of the circumstances.

The steamship Henry Chancy, from Aspinwall, brings $600,000 in treasure. The elders of the family would then most probably sally out with the hot kettle, and bearing also a competent provision of buns and short-bread, or bread and cheese, with the design of visiting their neighbors, and interchanging with them the same cordial greetings. In Holland, the New Year is made much more of than either in England or in other parts of the Continent, and the Gothamites, to this day, faithfully observe this cheerful institution, handed down to them from their Knickerbocker ancestors. The giving of gifts, presents to friends, and substantial assistance to the indigent, is an old and time-honored custom. When pine were first invented and brought into use about the beginning of the sixteenth century, they were a New Year's gift very acceptable to ladies, and money given for the purchase of them was called "pin-money," an expression which has been extended to a sum of money secured by a husband on his marriage for the private expenses of his wife. Pins made of metal, in their present form, must have been in use some time previous to 1513, in which year a E. M. WHITING, Esq., as a candidate for Sheriff of statute was passed (35 Hen. VIII. c. 6), entitled | Charleston (Judicial) District, at the next election, 'An Acte for the true making of Pynnes," in which it was enacted that the price charged should not exceed 6s. 8d. a thousand. Informatives and friends has much declined in England, but is still kept up with surprising vigor in Paris, where the day is especially recognized from this circumstance as Le Jour d'Elrennes. Parents then bestow portions on their children, brothers on their wives. The mere externals of the day as observed in Paris, are of a striking character; they were described as follows in an English journal, as were described as follows in an English journal, as were described as follows in an English journal, as and singular the kindred and creditors of the said John and singular the kindred and credits and w. C. COURT and and w. C. COURT and a W. C. COURT and the Pacific. In the difficulty with Spain, Mosquiro has decided that New Granada will remain neutral, and that either belligerent will have a right to bring prizes into port for adjudication. Senor Aguildo has been appointed Consul-General from Columbo for the United States. Valparaiso dates of the 3d, and Callao untes of 14th, have been received. It was not known at Valparaiso if peace had been made with Spain. The Chilian foreign minister had gone to Callao on a special steamer, and his visit was believed to have reference to the this writer, "may be seen rolling through the streets with cargoes of bon-bons, souvenirs, and the variety of etceteras with which little children and grown up children are bribed into good humor; and here and there pastrycooks are to be met with. carrying upon boards enormous temples, pagodas, churches, and piryhouses, made of fine flour and sugar, and the embellishments which render French pastry so inviting. But there is one street in Paris to which a New Year's Day is a whole year's fortune-this is the Rue des Lombards, where the wholesale confectioners reside; for in Paris every trade and profession has its peculiar quarter. For several days precising the 1st of January, the street is completely blocked up by the carts and wagons laden wit cases of sweetmeats for the provinces. These are of every form and description which the most singular fancy could imagine; bunches of carrots, green peasboots and shoes, lobsfers and crabs, hats, books, musical instraments, griditrons, fring-pans, and sance-pans; all made of sugar, and colored to imitate reality, and all made with a holler within to hold the bou-bons. The most prevailing device is what is called a corner; that is, a little cone ornamen ed in different ways, with a bag to draw over the large end, and close it up. In these things, the prices of which vary from one feare (20 cents) to fifty, the bon-bons are presented by those who choose to be at the expense of them, and by those who do not, they are only wrapped in a piece of where the wholesale confectioners reside; for in 34.37a59. "HAT HALL"

CIRCULAR. JANUARY 1st, 1867.

IN ADDRESSING HIS NEW YEAR CIRCULAR TO THE public, the Proprietor of the almost world-renowned "HAT HALL," No. 313 King street, between Liberty and Wentworth streets, cannot permit the occasion to pass without expressing his heartfelt thanks to his very namerous patrons for the very liberal manner in which they have shown their appreciation of the great reduction in the prices of Hats since the opening of the "Hat Hall" in

The past and the future, with curtains hung, separate rom our view that which we once saw, and that which is to be seen. But memory, grateful memory, brings to the mind of the Proprietor of the "Hat Hall" the past. It is truly a privilege, allowed us by Him who watches over us, to recall to view in the mind acts of kindnes eceived from fellow-man.

In this strain of thought, STEELE returns his thanks to the public in general for the unbounded support which ages of ONE HUNDRED TICKETS will be sold at the he has received during the last year; and to those who may yet not know of the location of the "HAT HALL," we would say it is at No. 313 KING STREET, sign of the

"Tis true the "Hat Hall" has rules which govern its dealings. It solicits only cash trade, but proves that the prices are lower for HATS and CAPS sold there than the ame goods can be procured for elsewhere. In conclusion, STEELE would dedicate the following lines to the public :

Of all the thousands that have bought STEELE's Hats and Caps, so finely wrought, Some, although "few and far between Perchance have disappointed been. If so, albeit he has not heard That disappointment has occurred, He stands prepared (if proof there be)

The oversight to remedy. For 'tis his rule, repeated o'er, To think no time or pains ill-spent That gives a customer content.

A FEW WORDS OF COMMON

SENSE. How few there are who are not subject to some affection How few there are who are not subject to some affection of the lungs or respiratory organs, who, by neglecting premonitory symptoms, aggravate the compliant, until disease strikes its shafts, causing inexpressible tortune of the patient, and anxiety and aistress to friends. "Only a cold!" "A slight sore throat!" is the headless romar of many when so affected. Yes; "Only a cold," was the thoughtless expression of thousands whom Death has marked for this prey.

Forewarned—Foregreet! should be the motto forever. PREPARE FOR THE HOLLDAYS.

REMEMBER THAT FRED, VON SANTEN, NO. 200 order by mail), has this season an unusually large, and certainly the most beautiful collection of FANCY GOODS, TOYS and FIREWORKS in this city. He has been established here for seventeen years, and Merchants, Planter, and families residing in or visiting the city will find it profitable, instructive and amusing to inspect the Goods which he is now opening at the SANTA CLAUS HEADQUARTERS, and which will make suitable presents or the coming holidays. If you cannot visit him personally, any one acquainted with the city will tell you that Vox SANTEN knows how to give satisfaction in filling all orders for the country, which are entrusted to fis care. Outside of his Shelf Goods, he offers to the Trade TOYS, FIREWORKS and CONFECTIONERY, put up together or separately, in original boxes, at prices ranging from two to one hundred dodars per case.

If you wish to buy or order any Toys or other Presents for your parents, children or friends, in the Fancy Goods line, such as beautiful CABAS, WORK BOXES, CHINA ORNAMENTS, JEWEL CASES, TOLLET SETTS, FOLIOS, CARD CASES, and most beautiful ALBUMS, costing from $1 up to $25 each, and other ornamental as well as useful Presents, go to Forewarned—Forestment! should be the motto forever in the minds of all subject to Coughs, Colda, Calarrh, or Influenza. Words of advice should be heeded by all sufering from Asthma, Bronehids, Consumption.
